Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WILLIAM MASON.
Charles County, Md. June 1.
The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.
June 11 tf

Was Committed

TO the jail for Alexandria county, as a runaway, on 21st inst. a negro man, who calls himself HENRY WILLIAMSON, alias JACOB ROBINSON. The said negro is about 25 years of age and about 5 feet six inches high, of a yellow complexion; he had on a blue cotton jacket, and linen trowsers. When committed, he said he was the property of Mr. Elliot, of Baltimore, but now says he is the property of a Mr. Tyson, of the same place, and that he will be entitled to his freedom in a short time.
The owner is requested to come forward and prove property, pay charges and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

Wheat, Old Corn, and Maryland Tobacco,

PURCHASED BY
Oct 4 LAWRASON & FOWLE.

MR. Editor,

KNOWING that there is a number of the most worthless of society, who make it a business to spread evil reports respecting the solvency of banks in the different parts of the United States, for the purpose of depreciating and purchasing their paper. I feel it is my duty to give a list of the Banks of the District of Columbia, that it may be made known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the said Banks do pay specie for their notes, on demand, and that they are justly entitled to the highest credit and standing, and that they are opposed to a suspension of specie paymenis, and will be the last in the country that will agree to such a measure. This communication is made to prevent imposition, and to inform all persons who may have the paper of those banks, in any part of the Union, that they may hold it as so much specie. Persons emigrating and travelling north, south or west, would do well by taking the notes of those banks, as they will always find them equal to specie, and often to command a premium of 5 to 10 per cent, for remittances to Baltimore, Philadelphia & New-York. To my numerous acquaintances (trading men,) and the community I pledge myself for the foregoing.
The following are the banks of this district that pay specie for their notes on demand, viz:
The Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown,
Central Bank of Georgetown & Washington,
Union Bank of Georgetown,
Bank of Columbia,
Bank of the Metropolis,
Patriotic Bank of Washington,
Bank of Washington,
Bank of Alexandria,
Union Bank of Alexandria,
Farmers' Bank of Alexandria,
Bank of Potomac,
Branch Bank of the United States at Washington.
I hold myself responsible for the foregoing declaration to the public. Done at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown, this 26th day of May, 1819.
ROMULUS RIGGS.
Editors of newspapers throughout the United States, by giving the above a few insertions, will greatly benefit the community.

SOUTH AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE.

The following abstract of information very lately received, verbally and by letter, from persons of the highest respectability in Angostura and the West-India Islands, is entitled to implicit credit. It is furnished solely for the gratification of citizens interested in the cause of South American independence, more especially in that of Venezuela.

Two brilliant affairs have lately taken place between detachments from the respective armies in the neighborhood of the Aranca river, in the province of Barinas; both of which, terminated in favor of the independents. In the first, col. Piggott, a foreign officer of merit, greatly distinguished himself—having had two horses killed under him. Suffice it to say, that the royalists were driven from their position. The latter enterprise is one of the most extraordinary recorded in the annals of modern or ancient warfare.

General Paez, commander of the cavalry composed of the free people of color and blacks of the plains, called Llaneros, had repeatedly solicited permission from Genl. Bolivar, to attack the enemy's camp, with a select band of volunteers, but was as often refused. The attack appeared to hazardous and partial, to justify approbation; and that officer, instructed by experience, resolved not to hazard the reduction of his force by detachment.—The Fabian, or Washingtonian system, in short, was adopted; and the president of the republic seemed inflexible in maintaining it. He would not risk a decisive battle with half his army; but await the co-operation of the expedition from Margarita. Nevertheless, he yielded to the importunities of Paez, and allowed him for once to indulge in his chivalrous projects. Thus licensed, that officer required 150 volunteers, his own guard of honor included. It is unnecessary to state, that the summon was received with acclamations: 4 lieut. colonels and colonels and 70 captains immediately joined their leader. Being disencumbered of all unnecessary accoutrements, the detachment instantly crossed the river in front of Morillo's main army, who were doubtless surprised at temerity so unexampled. Paez approached within speaking distance, (or as a sailor would say, within hail,) and challenged his antagonists to come and take them, with his little party. He had brought no more, lest he should affright them; but hoped that Morillo would not be intimidated by a handful of lancers, who had left a river in their rear, and now had an army before them. Provoked by this bantering defiance, Morillo ordered large detachments to defile from right and left, in order to surround the enemy and cut off his retreat. This was the very movement which Paez awaited; on its execution he calculated his success. Prompt at the moment, therefore, he gave laconic orders to his little column, who with lance in rest, rushed directly on the Spanish line. Opening their passage to the rear, they wheeled about, and penetrated again to the front, with prodigious slaughter.—The enemy's ranks were thrown into confusion and dismay, by several and terrible repetitions of those daring charges; and 500 of their number were either killed or wounded. Paez himself is reported to have lanced nine with his own hand; capt. GRANT, (a Scotch officer,) killed five, and others distinguished themselves equally in the work of carnage. With the loss of 3 or 4 of his gallant corps, the immortal Paez, recrossed the Aranca, and rejoined the army in triumph. All were electrified to admiration, or petrified to astonishment, at this achievment. The names of every individual appeared in the bulletin, and each was presented with the badge of the order of Libertador de Venezuela; an honor which many of them had attained already.

Col. English has arrived at Margarita, as the public are already informed. Colonel Ursla has reached the same destination.—When English anchored off Port-Spain, he received a special permission from gov. Woodford, to land and remain ashore for 24 hours; but this passport was not penned in a very friendly mood, as it reflected on Mr English for proceeding towards the neighboring provinces in revolt, contrary to his majesty's proclamation of Nov. 1817. He landed; but, finding that gov. Woodford was arming and manning the steamboat, to send her along side of his squadron, in order to entice his soldiers to desert, he hurried back, with an emphatic threat, confirmed a la militaire, by an oath or two, that if she came along side he would instantly sink her. Sir Ralph Woodford then abandoned his expedition, and Mr. English pursued his voyage to Margarita.

A Prussian Colonel had touched at Trinidad, on his way to Bolivar's camp. He is instructed to tender him the services of 4000 Prussian troops, on condition that he would allow the merchants of Hamburg, &c. to export with them, as great a quantity o merchandize as they pleased—duty free.

The British sloop of war Fly, reports, that 1600 Tyrolese troops had also reached Margarita from Europe, and that the expedition (which was nearly ready for sea) would consist of 2500 European and 3000 native troops. They are well equipped, and appeared in high spirits.

Cumana was said to be in a state of starvation. We ought to have mentioned in its proper place, that in the defeat of Gen. Latorr's division, by the patriots, an interesting correspondence with Morillo, was taken by the victors. From this it appears that an expedition from Lima menaced New Grenada. One account states, that an invading army had actually entered it, and that the Spaniards were flying in all directions.

More produce than usual had arrived at Angostura from the interior.

The congress were engaged in administering public affairs; and, if we can judge by appearances, their deliberations will result in the formation of a constitution of civil government, as free and as liberal as can be established in that country, under present circumstances.

It is probable, that within a few months, the royal forces will be expelled from Venezuela. But, we desist from speculation, and leave time to unfold events.

P. S. The government of Venezuela appeared inclined to encourage the improvement of the soil by industrious emigrants. The island of Faxardo, in the Oronoco, has been ceded to an English gentleman, on condition of cultivating it. The congress, we understand, have also authorised the introduction of a steam-boat or steam-boats, regardless of the monopoly promised or decreed to admiral Brion. Deputies from a couple of English societies had arrived at the seat of government in Guayana, to solicit the grant of an immense tract of land; or, as some say, the privilege of cultivating that whole province, entirely for the benefit of Venezuela. What success would attend an application so modest and disinterested, we cannot absolutely predict.

From the N. Y. Gazette, June 10.

The following interesting letter was yesterday received by a gentleman in this city, per the Albion.

Liverpool, May 1.

"Alarm and anxiety are constantly kept alive, by failure continuing to succeed failure, not only here and in London, but also in the manufacturing towns. Distrust and want of confidence prevail to a great extent, not only from what has happened, but from an apprehension of others still sinking under the pressure of the times. This unhappy posture of affairs, as you will readily imagine, tends to depress every kind of produce.

"Cotton is in tolerable fair demand, but at comparatively low prices. Uplands 11½ 13½d; New-Orleans 12 to 15d.; Sea-Island, 2 to 3s per lb.

"Ashes are very dull and lower; N. York Pots 40 a 43; Pearl's nominally 47 to 48s per cwt; Turpentine 10s 7d to 12s 6d per cwt; Common tar 15 to 16s per bbl.; new rice 24s; tobacco has experienced a further decline; export qualities 3½ to 4½d; pretty good Virginia leaf may be got for 5½d; and very fine for 7½ per lb.

"The average returns for wheat are so low that our ports will continue shut against foreign importation for another three months from the 15th of this month. Sweet American flour, old imported, but of good quality is in some demand at 34 to 37s per barrel: sour is in limited request at 28 to 31s.

London, April 24.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of his majesty, to approve of Mr. Jacob Mark, as consul at Cork for the U. States of America.

Present Prices of Country produce in the Baltimore Market.

TOBACCO.

Since the old crop was sold off, after the war, there has never been at one time as much tobacco for sale in this market. The mention of this fact, with a few actual sales within last week, giving names and places will enable the planter to form some idea of the state of the market.—As to speculating about the state of the market in Europe; the present posture and future prospect of affairs in our own country; the causes of our embarrassments; and the probability and means of relief; with a view to sagely predicting whether the article is likely to rise or fall, we beg leave to be excused. We have not the mercantile capacity or experience for it. A thousand shrewd prophecies might be made, by the speculator, to show that it would fall; and a planter may fancy as many reasons why it may be expected to rise. Our province is with facts diligently collected, and honestly detailed.

The fine yellow tobacco of Frederick co. which has been selling for 18 dolls. may be quoted at 19. Some tobacco made on the estate of the late Lloyd Dorsey, on Elkridge, sold yesterday morning for 5 dols a 7 dolls. Crop tobacco 3 hhds, from Mrs. Reynolds, Calvert co. sold for 7 a 8 dolls. some made by B. Essex, same county, for 5 5-8, second, and 7 5-8 crop.

Virginia tobacco, sold by J. P. Pleasants & Son, middling quality 7 dolls.; first quality 8½ dolls.

Corn 50 cents; wheat 112½; rye 55 a 70: oats 50; eggs per dozen 18 cts; butter per lb 31; beef, best butcher's 12½; mutton 6 a 8; veal per quarter from the waggons, 125 a 150: potatoes, retail per bushel, 1 doll.; green peas per peck 25 cts; hay and straw, each 16 a 18 dolls;—herrings, per bbl. 3 dolls. a little more than coast of barrel and salt.

Stockbridge, (Mass.) May 31.

RAPE.

A most outrageous act of violence was committed on Thursday night last in Sheffield, (Berkshire county), upon the person of a married woman, by a negro fellow, named Peter Johnson. It appears from his own confession, that he knew the husband of the woman was absent—that in the dead of the night he proceeded to the house, forced an entrance, seized the woman by the throat, and completely effected his purpose. He was committed to the prison in Lenox, on Saturday, to await the sentence of the law, which will undoubtedly be executed rigorously, as an awful warning to the miscreant wretches who may chance to see or hear the fate of this inhuman monster

To the Editor of the Gazette.

THE Magistrates, whose names are mentioned in the following rule of the Superior court, for the county of Prince William—which rule was granted against them on the affidavit of Thomas W. Hewitt, of Alexandria—think it due to themselves to publish that rule, together with the affidavit & the opinion of the court thereupon. These documents are handed you without comment, with a request that you will give them a place in your paper.

Virginia, to wit.

At a circuit court held at Dumfries, Oct. 20th, 1818—

On the motion of the attorney for the commonwealth, and for reasons appearing to the court from the affidavit of Thomas W. Hewitt, stating that certain magistrates of the county of Prince William, to wit:—Charles Ewell, Jesse Ewell, John Linton, Thomas Chapman, and John Fox, sitting as a court on the 4th day of June term, 1818, "did corruptly command and cause their clerk to enter a verdict, as the verdict of a jury, in the cause of Cornelius Kencheloe vs Jesse Scott, not returned by the jury aforesaid, but one wholly different in words; and this they did after the jury had been discharged, and when the jury nor any one of them was in the court house, the magistrates aforesaid, sitting as aforesaid, did corruptly and oppressively refuse to enter up a judgement on the true verdict of the jury on the aforesaid case," a rule is granted him against the said magistrates, requiring them to appear here on the first day of the next term, to shew cause why an information or informations, should not be filed against them for the above cause.

The affidavit above referred to is in these words:

"Personally appeared before me one the justices of the peace for the county of Prince William, Thomas W Hewitt and made oath, that on the fourth day of Prince William county court, held for June, in the year 1818, the court being composed of the following magistrates, to wit: Chas. Ewell, Jesse Ewell, John Linton, Thomas Chapman and John Fox, they, the aforesaid magistrates sitting as a court for the administration of justice, did corruptly command and cause their clerk to enter a verdict (as a verdict of the jury in the cause of Cornelius Kencheloe vs Jesse Scott), not returned by the jury in the cause aforesaid, but one wholly different in words; and this they did after the jury had been discharged, and when the jury nor any one of them was in court. That the magistrates aforesaid, sitting as aforesaid, did corruptly and oppressively refuse to enter up judgement on the true verdict of the jury in the aforesaid case. Given under my hand the 20th day of October, 1818.

Washington I. Washington."

On a copy of the foregoing rule, the sheriff of Prince William made the following return: "Executed on the within named Charles Ewell, Jesse Ewell, John Linton, Thomas Chapman and John Fox,

J. LEACHMAN, D. S.
for GER'D ALEXANDER.

22d May 1819."

The Commonwealth, against
Charles Ewell, Jesse Ewell, John Linton, Thomas Chapman, and John Fox, Justices of Prince William County, Defendants—

On a rule of this court entered against the defendants at the last term to shew cause, &c.

This day came as well the attorney for the commonwealth as the defendants by counsel, and the court having fully heard the evidence and arguments of counsel, and having maturely deliberated thereon; it is ordered that the rule be discharged, and on motion of the defendants, by their counsel, it is ordered, that the written opinion of the judge, delivered on the decision of this cause, this day by him handed to the clerk, be filed with the papers.

The written opinion of the judge above alluded to, and filed is in the following words—

vs.
The Justices of Prince William County.

On a motion to discharge a rule to shew cause why information should not be filed against them for corruption and oppression in office.

This is a motion, on the part of the defendants, to discharge a rule to show cause why information should not be filed against them for corruption and oppression in the exercise of their judicial functions. The subject is of great importance, and has received that full and deliberate investigation to which it was entitled from its magnitude. With all the attention which this court could bestow upon the enquiry, it has been found difficult to ascertain the real state of several of the facts. The testimony has often been confused, doubtful and contradictory: nor is it remarkable it should have been so, when it is recollected that one portion of the witnesses was under the influence of considerable excitement, whilst the others were wholly indifferent and careless of the proceeding. The following is the most accurate analysis which the court could form:—The jury in the case of the county court, from whence this controversy has originated, after their retirement, returned into the court, and offered to the court, through its proper organ, what, for distinction sake, may be called the first verdict (for the sum of 12 20). This verdict was reported to the court by the clerk, and at the moment of his closing his report, a motion was made to the court, by the defendant's counsel, for a non-suit—whilst precisely at the same time, with the consent of the jury, the plaintiff's attorney was modifying their verdict.—The first verdict having been obviously corrected by interlineation, it is not clear whether that, as corrected, or the second verdict wholly in the hand writing of the plaintiff's attorney, was read to the whole of them before their discharge; it is, however, certain, that as speedily as the correction could be made, the amended verdict was read by the counsel to the jury, and assented to by them, and that this verdict was substantially, if not in terms, the same with that written by the plaintiff's counsel. It would seem that but little time had been occupied in these proceedings at this stage of them; that the jury was discharged and dispersed. At this time it is certain that the amended verdict had never been read to the jury, nor reported to the court, by the proper organ. Discussions of an unpleasant character between the bar and the bench seem to have succeeded this stage of the transaction; and although much of the testimony exhibited to this court has turned on matters arising thereafter, there are really none of any consequence in its eyes, but the undenied facts, that the court did refuse to receive and record the amended verdict—and did order to be recorded that which had been duly reported to them; and that in this time, if not before, the first verdict as interlined and added to, was wholly obliterated by the plaintiff's counsel so as to be unintelligible. The discussions above alluded to, turned on the impropriety of the order of non-suit, and the admissibility of, and statements contained in, a bill of exceptions, prepared by the plaintiff's counsel, and the whole subject was terminated by that counsel offering to the court the second verdict and the rejection of it.

Whatever confusion may attend the details of the evidence, certain material facts are sufficiently settled, and these furnish as much light as is necessary for the decision. It is certain that the verdict for 12 dols. 20 was returned and reported to the court by its proper organ, the clerk, and that altho' this verdict was amended by the counsel with the consent of the jury, yet this was done without any application to the court—that the amended verdict was not read to the jury by the clerk, as is usual and proper in all such cases; and never was offered or reported to the court until after the jury were discharged and dispersed; and when the court was called upon to act definitively on this subject, there was nothing upon the declaration, or in the case, in the character of a verdict, but the first which had been so interlined and obliterated as to be unintelligible to the court, and the second, which was wholly written by the plaintiff's counsel, not even signed by a member of the jury, and which does not by any means clearly appear to have been written before their discharge. In this state of things a question was raised at the bar, what was the true verdict of the jury? Here it is very material to remark, that it is admitted by the principal witness for the prosecution, himself the plaintiff's counsel in the county court, and the prosecutor here, that the question of non-suit on the first verdict and the amendments made of that verdict by himself were going on at the same moment. Surely under such circumstances it is no overstrained presumption to suppose, that the communications between that gentleman and the jury, which had been conducted without any appeal to the court, were not within their observation. And if they were not so fortunate as to catch these communications, whilst they themselves were either listening to, or deciding on a motion for non-suit, there was no other time when they could have heard them from a source to which they ought to have attached authority; the discussions which immediately ensued turning on the non-suit and during these, the jury having been discharged. What then was the situation of the court when finally called on to record the verdict? It is absolutely certain they had heard but one verdict in the form and manner usual on such occasions. It is by no means certain that they had heard in any manner before the jury was discharged the amended verdict prepared and read by the plaintiff's counsel, and the presumption is that they did not. But was this a regular proceeding? Is it the practice of any well regulated court for the counsel to report the verdict to the court? Is it not known to be uniformly the practice when any material alteration is made in a verdict, for it to be handed to the clerk and by him read anew to the jury and reported to the court? It may indeed sometimes occur that in moments of carelessness there may be exceptions to this practice, but they are only tolerated as irregularities, as a total change of the practice might be productive of the worst consequences. When then the court was called on to decide on recording the verdict, in one view of the case, and that too the most probable, they did quite right in ordering the first verdict to be recorded. It was the only one of which they had been judicially informed, and the paper itself could not furnish them any guide—not from any fault of theirs, but from the conduct of the prosecutor. But in the worst aspect of the case, they might well doubt what they should do: nor is this court by any means prepared to say, that, even if they did hear the amended verdict read by the counsel to the jury, they were bound to have regarded it, or to have been guided in their decision by what was not addressed to them, but merely overheard, pending the discussion and consideration of a point regularly made to them. It was certainly the part of the plaintiff's counsel to have met this motion for a nonsuit either on its merits, or by asking a suspension of it until, under the eye, and with the leave of the court, he could amend the verdict.—And he had no right to complain that the court whilst engaged with that, which was regularly bro't before them, and to which they were bound to listen, did not attend to that, which he was doing irregularly and out of order.—Thus it will always happen—the irregularities of the bar will recoil on itself; and in the end, they will always find, but often too late, that their own interests are entirely compatible with the order and dignity of the court.

I have thus considered the case upon the alledged error committed by the court—It is necessary in judicial proceedings to establish a wrong done, before a wrongful intention can be imputed or enquired into—the negative of either of these propositions is enough for the defendants; but there must be a concurrence of both to maintain the prosecution. The previous view taken of this subject, shewing that in one aspect of it the court did right, and in the other, it is by no means certain that they did wrong removes all pretence of inferring the existence of the weighty charge made against them, from the act itself. And in what else are we to find it? Surely not in the characters of the men, nor in their deportment on the occasion—nor in the object to be attained by their judgment. It is scarcely possible to believe that they could have conceived a different consequence, (as to the motion for the nonsuit, to flow from the change in the verdict. The reason assigned by them in the bill of exceptions demonstrates that the ground of their judgment was completely convertible to either condition of the verdict. I ask again then upon the evidence exhibited in this court, where there is even a shadow of suspicion that those gentlemen have been actuated by oppression and corruption?—As to the bias of these charges. Corruption, the common understanding of mankind and the definition of the lexicographers are the same—"Wickedness: perversion of principle: loss of integrity." Without enquiring into the effect of establishing this charge, on the characters of these gentlemen as members of society, it is enough to say that the direct judicial consequences would be, to subject them to a heavy amercement and to the deprivation of their offices with ignominy and disgrace. Is there a single individual whose heart this evidence, who thinks that these consequences ought to attach to the conduct of these men? It is very true indeed that our country knows no higher object than the preserving pure and untainted the fountains of justice. It is very true indeed that oppression and corruption, in this branch of government, more than in any other, bring distress and ruin to the very fireside of the citizen:—but it is no less true, that in order to preserve justice in her purity, her ministers must be protected, as well as responsible. And that while we hold them heavily accountable for their wrongs, we should zealously defend them in their rights.—Such is the wise and magnanimous principle of the common law that she will not even hold her judges responsible civilly for their errors of judgment—how would she revolt at the proposition to charge them criminally!!

In this case the parties have been fully and patiently heard upon the testimony—and the court has entered elaborately into the consideration of it—It seemed necessary to do so. The parties being as fully heard at this stage of the case as they could expect to be at any future one, the court is in possession of all the materials on which its judgment could ever operate—In this stage of the case, if it had good reason to doubt, it would refer the case to the consideration of a jury, by ordering an information to be filed. But it would not do this when the doubt was a light one, because under the circumstances, it would be countenancing a suspicion of a most injurious tendency to the defendants.

Much less would it do so when, as in this case, it has not the least doubt. There may indeed have been some excitement and ill humor on both sides on the trial in the county court; it is often hard to avoid this, however desirable. From the testimony it would seem that the greater cause was furnished by the conduct of the prosecutor—But ill humor and irritation are not corruption: this court cannot say that from the evidence it has heard, it does appear that the county court indulged even in these. But with respect to the charge set out in this rule, it has no doubt or hesitation.

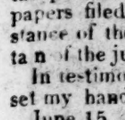

is wholly unfounded and unsupported and the rule should be discharged.

I, John Lawson, clerk of the circuit court for Prince William county, do hereby certify, that the foregoing are true copies of the proceedings in said court, and of the papers filed therein, on a rule at the instance of the commonwealth against certain of the justices of said county.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, this 4th day of June, 1819.

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale.

BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 930 acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few—surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. J. Taylor's Maryland Point estate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, is in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres.

Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed, to the subscriber, near Hampstead post office, Va.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on the 25th of April last, negro SAM, formerly the property of Mr. William Robinson, of Fairfax county, Virginia, of whom I purchased him about 18 months ago—He is 23 years of age, stout and well made, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, of a dark complexion, has an impediment in his speech when spoken to—his dress consisted of a coarse blue cloth coat and pantaloons, a great coat of shaggy cloth. He formerly worked in a brick and timber yard in Alexandria, and has some relations in Westmoreland county, and also at the Sedley Mills in Fairfax, where I purchased him. The above reward will be given to any person who will deliver him to me in Loudoun county, or secure him in any jail so that I get him again.

For Sale,

TWO tracts of valuable land in Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland opposite Nanjemoy Reach—one of these tracts of land is bounded on one side by the Potomac, has a valuable fishery, and contains about 360 acres of bottom, with a quantity of wood that ought to be cut.—The other is about three-fourths of a mile from the river, from one half to two thirds covered with wood and valuable white-oak timber, and contains about 700 acres. Both tracts have an orchard of choice fruit. The above land will be sold at Charles County Court, on THURSDAY in the third week of August next at Public sale, if not sold before, at private sale.—The terms will be made known at the sale. Timber or wood may be purchased any time previous to the sale.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 30 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately.—Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

ROMULUS RIGGS.

AT his office, next doo below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Editors of the Alexandria Herald

GENTLEMEN, Your favor of the 2d inst. is at hand, wherein you offer me an opportunity, through the medium of your paper, to reply to an anonymous publication of the 31st ultimo, for which you will please to accept my thanks. My reply to that piece, and all others of like character, is, that I have avoided as much as possible coming in contact with blackguards and assassins. Further, that all publications coming from me are intended to convey useful information to the public, and to prevent imposition.

Permit me also the further privilege of your paper, that I may make it known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria do now pay specie for their notes on demand, and that persons holding their paper may rely on its being promptly met. Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 30 of which are in wood—10 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately.—Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.
ROMULUS RIGGS.

AT his office, next doo below Crawford's tavern. Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Messrs. Corse & Rounsaville,

Editors of the Alexandria Herald

GENTLEMEN, Your favor of the 2d inst. is at hand, wherein you offer me an opportunity, through the medium of your paper, to reply to an anonymous publication of the 31st ultimo, for which you will please to accept my thanks. My reply to that piece, and all others of like character, is, that I have avoided as much as possible coming in contact with blackguards and assassins. Further, that all publications coming from me are intended to convey useful information to the public, and to prevent imposition.

Permit me also the further privilege of your paper, that I may make it known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria do now pay specie for their notes on demand, and that persons holding their paper may rely on its being promptly met. Done at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown, this 5th day of June, 1819.

Vaccine Institution

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
